Mainz, 1st July 2020

Changes in admission procedure due to Corona pandemic for the MA.IB programme:

Our admission office has decided that the application will START by 15th June only. Therefore, the deadline will be extended until at least 15th July 2020 (for all applicants).

In case no official English tests will take place due to the spread of Corona-virus, please add a printout of the official statement from the testing institution to your application. This does not mean that the requirement is waived. This might only give you the possibility to hand in the proof for English in a later stage, the latest at enrolment. Exceptionally for this year, we will also accept IELTS Indicator tests.

For the proof of other languages: we might allow you to hand in proof in a later stage, but only if you can prove that the final test (e.g. German A2) did not take place (due to the pandemic). We will inform you about all other changes regarding admission procedure on our homepage asap.

Both uni-assist as well as the admission office of our University of Applied Sciences will process applications based on the online data. No paper copies of the application documents need to be sent in! In case of acceptance, paper versions of all relevant document proofs need to be handed with enrolment.

Most probably, our winter semester will officially start on 21st of September with the introduction week. However, there are many things that are not yet decided. Today we can say for sure that teaching in the master's program will be held in a form that participants can follow online and need not necessarily travel to Mainz. The idea is to offer physical classroom teaching for those who are here and virtual teaching to the students who cannot leave their countries or travel to Germany. On the university's level, it is not yet decided whether classes will be allowed to take place in presence. In the worst case, we will have to offer everything online at least for the first weeks. The academic year will provisionally end on 17th of July 2021.

Kind regards
