TAXATION PART-TIME M.Tax.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

This degree program comprehensively prepares you for the tax consultant profession or for a management position in the tax department of a company. You will be comprehensively prepared for the tax consultant exam, as we cover the entire range of tax law relevant for the exam.

In addition to tax law, emphasis is placed on the particularly relevant areas of law (corporate law, transformation law, and group law). We also teach you the legal regulations of the profession.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

Classes are held during the semester from Thursday to Saturday.

During the first four semesters you will attend classes. In the fourth semester, you will write your master's thesis and prepare for the tax advisor exam. You can also take the tax advisor preparatory courses of Dr. Bannas if you choose.

PROSPECTS

With the master's degree in Taxation, you are excellently prepared for management tasks in the field of tax law and are authorized to autonomously perform activities in tax consulting.

The master's degree also gives you access to higher-level civil service and can serve as a gateway to doctoral studies.
